

2025 INVESTING IN THE HEALTH OF THE UPPER PENINSULA REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

PROGRAM OVERVIEW: The 2025 Investing in the Health of the Upper Peninsula Request for Proposal program aims to support initiatives that address prominent health issues in the Upper Peninsula, including programs that address the unique health needs of the region's aging population. All Upper Peninsula counties have high percentages of people 65 or older (23%) than the state of Michigan's average (18%). Older adults face a complex set of needs and must balance increased isolation and loneliness, increased health concerns, service shortages, lack of transportation options and decreased mobility. Since the chronic disease burden is higher in older adults, they can be expected to have greater needs for home health services, assisted living and nursing home care. Conversely, many communities will face declining tax bases, reduced services and a lack of younger caregivers for the aging population.

PRIORITY AREAS: The BCBSM Foundation, Superior Health Foundation and Michigan Health Endowment Fund have identified priority areas for this request for proposal program:

- Access to care initiatives that increase utilization of primary, behavioral, palliative care or other services for older adults, with a focus on enhanced coordination of care.
- Workforce development programs with a special emphasis on training or expanding availability of community health workers or mental health providers.
- Innovative or evidence-based chronic disease prevention programs.
- Caregiving initiatives that improve the health or quality of life of family caregivers of older adults with a focus on innovative respite models and increased retention rates of professional caregivers supporting older adults.
- Innovative programs that aim to reduce isolation and loneliness among older adults.
- Health literacy initiatives that aim to empower individuals and providers to learn and communicate about available services and needs, and ultimately lead to more-informed health-related decisions.
- Organizations focused on data collection, analysis, evaluation or capacity building projects.
